Full of Booze, Fight and Patriotism All at the Same Time.

Daniel J. Egan and Daniel Burke, with twenty-five others from Boston, arrived here on Monday to work on some contract job. The two dandies got away from the battalion and with the nice job they had, began a freckling expedition near the depot. Officer Doherty told them to hunt up the rest of the crew but instead started a scrap among themselves. The officer pushed them into an auto and gave them a short joy ride to the Chapel street camp. They put in the remainder of the day in a vocal concert and delivering ultimatum to the Kaiser. No man in the first line trenches had the patriotism which these distinguished visitors brought from Boston.

(By Associated Press)
London, July 30.—The Germans have been counter-attacking very heavily virtually along the entire battlefront according to news that reached London shortly after noon today. Their attacks were heavy, especially one of them which resulted in driving the Americans out of the village of Clerges, about 5 and 1-2 miles southeast of Fere-en-Tardonois. Another German thrust drove the Americans back from Beugneux near Grand Rozoy, northwest of Fere-en-Tardonois. Heavy fighting has been in progress along the whole battlefront to Dinancy.

Some advances have been made by the allies. A certain amount of ground has been gained near the northern center of the front. The main advance on the western side of the front seems to have been at Grand Rozoy about 5 miles northwest of Fere-en-Tardonois. The French here are progressing north onto the crest of the plateau between the Vesle and Ourcq rivers.

There has been heavy fighting near Dinancy, 6 miles south of Soissons, and also in Plesier wood, about 5 miles further south. In this latter locality 45 prisoners were taken belonging to 3 divisions of the enemy, now engaged in the Marne salient. There are 71 such divisions of which 10 belong to the northern army of the Crown Prince of Bavaria's army. The enemy's withdrawal is reported to be still orderly.

Paris, July 30.—There was no change in the situation north of the Marne last night, says today's official war office statement.

ROGERS FILES FOR CONGRESS IN 21ST DIST.

Concord, July 30.—William N. Rogers of Wakefield filed at the office of the secretary of state, late Monday afternoon as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress in the first district. This was not exactly a surprise, but it brought some relief to the Democratic leaders, who have been more or less concerned about the make-up of the party ticket.

Rogers has been the first choice of most of the Democrats of the first district for some time, as they recognize in him an exceptionally good campaigner and one who will not be forced to take any hatchet-burying expeditions before getting down to the real business of the campaign. He has been identified with any of the activities in the party, his political activity having developed too recently for that.

Rogers gained a bit as oratorical and in the last session of the legislature, and since then he has been kept busy in drives for recruits for the Army with Major Frank Knox and others in the early days of the war, and since then he has been busy in and out of the legislature, and he has a record of football prowess as a Dartmouth guard on the fast '12 and '13 eleven and he did editorial work on the University of Maine Law Review in his law school days.

It is expected that the United States senatorial and the second congressional district candidates will be worked out this week, so that the minority alignment will be known definitely, with the only question so far as the important party line-ups are concerned being confined to the Republican candidate for senator, which will not be decided until Sept. 3.

Republicans who filed today, including Albert P. Sherry of Dover for senator of Strafford county, Elizabeth M. Keimpton of Newfane for registrar, of Plymouth county, Claude M. Murray for sheriff of Grafton county, and Dean S. Corcoran of Caledonia for treasurer of Coos county.

Republican representative candidates include Chester D. Hatch of Exeter, Harry Evans Chase and Thomas P. Owen of Stratham, Stanley H. Abbott and George W. Bean of Wilton, Thomas J. McClintock of ward 1, Dover, George W. Cobb, George P. Hurdley of Goffstown are candidates for delegate to the state convention and Kimball W. Noyes of Lisbon for supervisor.

Democratic representative candidates who have filed include George S. Peavey of Greenfield, Matthew T. Sullivan of ward 6 and Charles C. Cole and Edward DeLacombe of ward 9, Nashua.

DOVER

Dover, July 29.—The little town of Madbury, one of the smallest towns in the state was the scene of a most interesting event Monday. Regardless of the weather a large number of the residents of Madbury and many from the surrounding cities and towns attended the dedication exercises of the Union Congregational church which took place at 2:30 p. m. An address the subject of which was, "The relation of Madbury to the Dover parish" was handled in a most inspiring manner by Rev. Stearns, chairman of the New Hampshire Church Building society. Rev. H. H. Thayer of Portsmouth preached the sermon which was a most scholarly effort.

The historical address was given by William H. Elliott of Madbury who in a most interesting manner gave the history of the parish and town. He showed that 150 years ago this very day the town of Madbury was organized although the parish had been established 13 years prior in 1758. He also showed the ownership of the land upon which the church stood from 1675 when King Philip's Indian war broke out to Zaccariah Blyden, that it contained in the possession of the descendants of Zaccariah Blyden through several generations, until it became the property of Ebenezer Demeritt and was retained by Ebenezer Demeritt and his heirs until it was deeded to the church society by the heirs of Ebenezer Demeritt. Maj. John Demeritt and his eldest son, Jennie M. Demeritt both of Madbury. Two of the descendants of Zaccariah Blyden "became" ministers of the gospel.

The new church was beautifully decorated, largely with a profusion of handsome roses, furnished through the generosity of Mr. Elliott from his hot houses in the town. The pulpit furnishings came as a gift from the Congregational church in Albion, Mass., through the influence of Mr. Elliott.

The church is built of stone and concrete and is practically fireproof. It has a seating capacity of about 250 persons. Madbury citizens are to be congratulated on having its first Union Congregational church. The society starts out free from debt, the sum of $500 having been raised in three days' time $150 of which was raised during the exercises Sunday.

Capt. W. D. Lathrop and Officers Tuttle and Hathaway, armed with a search warrant, went to the store of Louis Newsky on Waldron street last Saturday and made a search for liquor. Newsky told the officers to go ahead when they had read the warrant to him, but was heard to say "something to his wife," and then she suddenly left the room. One of the officers followed her into the other room and found her in an attempt to remove a five gallon jug. Some bottles of liquor were found which was thought to be wine of some kind. The officers took Newsky to the police station, where he gave bonds. In the sum of $200 for his appearance in police court Monday morning. At a session of justice court held Monday morning Judge William P. Nason presiding the case of Louis Newsky was called. Judge McCabe appeared for the respondent and asked to have the case continued until this morning for the reason that he had a witness who was unable to be present. Monday morning Solicitor Sherry objected seriously to a "continuance" of the case, but finally, upon agreement, the case was continued until Friday morning at 9 o'clock and Newsky was ordered to furnish bonds in the sum of $700 for his appearance at that time.

Rev. Robert W. Coe, pastor of the First Parish church in Dover left on his vacation yesterday afternoon and will be gone throughout the month of August. He will spend his entire vacation in or near Baltimore, Md., with his family. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Michel are on their annual vacation and are visiting Maine resorts.

Swiss Toy Barometer.

Familiar all over the world is the Swiss toy barometer that gives notice of storm or sunshine by the appearance of a little white or little woman outside of a miniature house. If the prospect be of fair weather, the woman comes out; if of storm, the man.

The toy is really a fairly reliable weather prophet. Its mechanism is, of course, extremely simple, the two figures "acting" in response to the twisting piece of catgut, which contracts in dry weather and expands when there is moisture in the air, thus turning the little platform on which the wankins stand.

Anzac Makes Safe Guess.

A company commander received an order from battalion headquarters to send in a return giving the number of dead Anzacs in front of his sector of trench. He sent in the number as 2,001.

H. Q. rung up and asked him how he arrived at this absurd figure.

"Well," he replied, "I'm certain about the one, because I counted him myself. He's hanging on the wire just in front of me. I killed him the first time. I worked it out all by myself in my own head that it was headlight to estimate 'em than to walk about in No Man's Land and count 'em!"—Australian Soldiers' Magazine.

An Ovation.

"Never got such an ovation in my life."

"How so, giraffe?"

"You know when a young man lifts his hat to a lady every young man who happens to be with him does the same."

"Of course."

"Well, Perdy howed to me from the midst of their marching club and 500 young men lifted their hats."

Familiar all over the world is the Swiss toy barometer that gives notice of storm or sunshine by the appearance of a little white or little woman outside of a miniature house. If the prospect be of fair weather, the woman comes out; if of storm, the man.

The toy is really a fairly reliable weather prophet. Its mechanism is, of course, extremely simple, the two figures "acting" in response to the twisting piece of catgut, which contracts in dry weather and expands when there is moisture in the air, thus turning the little platform on which the wankins stand.

Anzac Makes Safe Guess.

A company commander received an order from battalion headquarters to send in a return giving the number of dead Anzacs in front of his sector of trench. He sent in the number as 2,001.

H. Q. rung up and asked him how he arrived at this absurd figure.

"Well," he replied, "I'm certain about the one, because I counted him myself. He's hanging on the wire just in front of me. I killed him the first time. I worked it out all by myself in my own head that it was headlight to estimate 'em than to walk about in No Man's Land and count 'em!"—Australian Soldiers' Magazine.

MINING ENGINEERS TO MEET

New York, July 29.—Some 7,000 mining engineers, members of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, are expected to shoulder in the endeavor both to stimulate war mineral production and to convert minerals to the highest possible service in the war. In an effort to increase the scope of this war service, the American Institute of Mining Engineers will meet in Colorado during the week of September 2nd to take up vital problems of immediate importance.

Mining engineers from every section of the country will attend. During the meeting, trips are to be made from Colorado Springs to the Cripple Creek district, Pueblo, the Leadville district, and Boulder. The week's session will open in Denver on September 2nd to Colorado Springs, which will be the principal headquarters for the duration of the meeting.

This is the first assembly of the entire Institute in Colorado since 1896, and an appropriate entertainment program, planned by the seven hundred Colorado members, will include an automobile drive to the top of Pike's Peak.

The sections of Colorado to be visited are rich in many war minerals of importance, including ferro alloys, radium, molybdenite ores and pyrites.

GETS THE FULL EFFORT OF THE WAR

Buenos Aires, July 29.—Argentina although not in the war is suffering its material consequences, is evidenced by the constantly increasing cost of living, scarcity of work, lowering of wages, development of "trusts" covering articles of consumption, and extensive private speculation in public necessities. The government is being urged to adopt emergency measures similar to those pursued by other countries where the war produced such conditions. It has been suggested that special committees be appointed by the state to intervene, or that additional powers be extended to those branches of the public administration such as the police, hygiene, labor, which from the nature of their functions are best equipped for coping with the evils. Comparison of prices of various articles of prime necessity today indicate that many increases may not be attributed directly to the war but rather to artificial factors compounded by speculation, price-juggling and hoarding of supplies.

LAY ASIDE TROUBLE FOR THE BIG STRUGGLE

Dublin, July 29.—To persuade the people of Ireland to lay aside their internal affairs, and go into the war as America has done in, is the aim of the Irish Publication Committee. Just formed in Dublin, under the chairmanship of Frederick W. Meredith, a prominent Dublin business man whose sons are all in the army and who has himself been prominent in Irish war activities from the beginning of the conflict.

The activities of the committee will be centered on an educational campaign designed largely to show people in Ireland what Americans, particularly Americans of Irish birth or ancestry, think about the situation in Ireland.

In an outline of his plans, given to The Associated Press, Mr. Meredith says:

"I cannot help feeling that, if the opinions of other nations were brought before my countrymen, they would cease from sulking and skulking, and take their proper place in the great fight."

"Neither the Nationalist leaders nor their newspapers have told the Irish people what other nations are saying about them. On the contrary, they are letting them believe that all the nations will consider them the bravest of the brave if they stay at home and keep on shouting 'Death Before Surrender.' Not only is the truth about what other nations think about them being withheld, but facts are being distorted and misrepresented."

"They are told that the Lord Lieutenant, the Chief Secretary, and the British government are engaged in an abominable conspiracy to blacken the fair name of Ireland by accusing some Irishman of plotting with Germany. As the Irish are a gullible people, at least in some respects, and nurtured on hatred of England, they readily believe it."

"German money has been well spent, and we have added many of the Irish people have been convinced that Germany will win the war. They believed it at the time of the Easter rebellion of 1916, and they believe it now."

"But in every Irish heart there is more than a spark of manhood, and if the true facts are brought home to the Irish people, that spark will become a blaze of indignation against the inhumanity of the German nation. When once aroused, there will be no faltering. But it is not just to blame the Irish people until the facts have been put before them."

"Our object in forming this committee is to put the facts before them. It is useless to expect their political leaders or the newspapers controlled by those political leaders to tell them there is too much jealousy between the different sections, that cannot we do better, more hearts are in the battle, and that our sons are serving, place in the hands of every Irish household extracts from the newspapers of other nations."

YANKEES STOP PRUSSIAN GUARDS

With the American Army on the move, Maine Press, July 29 (Associated Press)—Reinforced by two crack divisions of Bavarian guards, the Germans today settled down to the hardest resistance they have yet displayed against the American forces north of the river Ome. Although heavily outnumbered, the Americans repelled in like along the river and the fighting shifted back and forth through Sergy, three miles southeast of Peron-Tardou. Up to midday the Germans had been unable to force a recrossing of the Ome.

Further south, the Americans at Ronchieres sustained and defeated a strong attack by a guards division. The chosen Prussian troops were stopped everywhere suffering enormous losses.

The Americans met Germany's finest regiments in battle south of Sergy last night, where the enemy threw in the whole fourth division of Prussian guards reaching London this afternoon show that the Americans stood like a stone wall, brought the Germans to a clean stop and inflicted the heaviest losses upon them.

French and American troops were slashing vigorously at the stiffening German rear early today with some prospect that before night the advancing line would be close to the river Aisne, which is now only a few kilometers away. From Rheims the line now extends almost straight southwest to Oilly-et-Violaine. The forest of Ris is now behind the Allies, and they are holding Champvoisy to the northeast of the forest. In this region the Germans have the higher ground and have some advantage in the artillery duel.

SALVATION ARMY DOING GREAT WORK

Paris, July 29.—John T. Atkins, who was a Salvation Army major in Chicago, but who now is serving with a famous battalion of the United States army as a Salvation Army worker, has been mentioned in battalion and regimental orders and has been several times "over the top" with the battalion. He has been acclaimed the most popular man in the battalion and recommended for a commission as captain by the regimental commander.

"Major" Atkins, who is known to the officers and men of the battalion as the "little major," to distinguish him from the real major of the organization, is said to carry the good luck of the unit with him. The boys believe that when he is with them in an engagement their casualties are light. On one occasion, when a raid was to be undertaken, the little major's unit suffered with only four casualties, while the organization which followed them into action suffered severely.

When pay-day was a long time coming recently the little major gave each man in the battalion an order for seven francs on the canteen. Each took advantage of the "jargon" as the army boys call a loan and when payday came not one failed to show up to the little major with the return payment.

LYNN STRIKERS WANT NATIONAL BOARD TO ACT

Lynn, Mass., July 29.—The proposition that the National Labor Board act upon the strike of the men of the General Electric plant here, was rejected by the company here today. Mr. Fish the manager said that the state Board had held a hearing and had made recommendations which they were prepared to accept, and he considered that they could act quicker than the National Board who were already over-crowded.

WHY IS BERLIN CROWDED

New York, July 29.—The Berlin City Council has decided to ask the government for a loan of five million marks for the purchase of building material to alleviate the scarcity of small dwelling apartments according to the Berlin Tageblatt of June 15. The authorities intend to transform stores and other places of business into dwelling apartments.

HAVE TEN SONS IN SERVICE

Bay, Ark., July 29.—Ten of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Granville Cumberland are now in the service of the United States in Army and Navy. Their father is a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Secretary Baker has written to Mr. Cumberland:

"I can imagine the pride which you and your mother feel in these boys. Let me assure you that the nation is proud of you both as you are of your soldier and sailor sons. By such a sacrifice in this war for human liberty and the defense of peace you have indebted not only the people of our beloved country to you, but the freedom of all nations struggling against the advance of a military tyranny that threatens the world. In the supreme conflict of human hope with the backward powers of cruelty and injustice, you have made a supreme contribution."

"I congratulate you on behalf of the Army of the United States."

JAPAN MAKES LOAN TO SIBERIAN GOV.

Stockholm, July 29 (British Admiralty per Wireless Press)—The official organ of the Siberian Government published at Omsk, stated on July 12 that Japan had granted to the Siberian Government a loan of $250,000,000 for the formation of a strong army. In return Siberia undertakes to supply Japanese troops which arrive there with provisions. It is also announced that the Siberian Government is carrying on negotiations with America.

DILLIONS DEFEATED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

CHEVRONS ON ONE ARM ONLY

Paris, July 29.—American "non-coms" are no longer to wear their corporal and sergeant chevrons on both arms as heretofore, but will sport them on the right sleeve only. There is some discussion as to the precise reason for the new order—whether a saving of chevrons is intended, or whether it is to prevent the "non-coms" from being gradually covered with stripes altogether. Service stripes, such as are unfortunately apt to come, and kindred marks of honor will eventually leave the soldier for double chevrons.

Profits and Prices

Profits may be considered from two angles:

- 1st—Their effect on prices;
- 2nd—As a return to investors.

When profits are small as compared with sales, they have little effect on prices.

Swift & Company's profits are only a fraction of a cent per pound on all products sold, and if eliminated entirely would have practically no effect on prices.

Swift & Company paid 10 per cent dividends to over 20,000 stockholders out of its 1917 profits. It also had to build extensions and improvements out of profits, to finance large stocks of goods made necessary by unprecedented requirements of the United States and Allied Governments; and to provide protection against the day of declining markets.

Is it fair to call this profiteering?

A NEW SEA SPORT

London, July 29.—(British Wireless Service)—A sea sport which has arisen out of the war—hunting German submarines by airplane—is described in The Times. The writer's story concludes with telling how the crew of the U-boat "apparently" preferred death to being captured.

One of the crew of an airplane spotted a submarine lying on the bed of the ocean in fairly shallow water. "The wireless cracked," reads the account in The Times, "and soon away on the horizon there appeared a little destroyer, followed by stern by four scout trawlers, all racing toward the spot above which the airplane cruised, around."

"The destroyer came up first, of course, and it was not long before, guided by wireless instructions, her guns were trained in readiness to greet the unsuspecting U-boat should it bob to the surface. It seemed ages to the impatient crew before the trawlers arrived, but things moved rapidly once they were at the scene of action, for they knew their job of pill."

"Working in pairs they approached their victim from opposite directions, steaming toward each other. Between each pair a strong 'sweep' was stretched and allowed to hang in a huge loop that it might traverse the seabed. The vessels met and crossed above the dashed craft. The 'sweep' of either pair engaged the U-boat fore and aft simultaneously and held her in a gigantic cradle."

"Thus far the German boat had shown no signs of alarm although those with her must have heard the churning of the trawlers' screws. Now she suddenly seemed to awake in the manner that threatened her. The article goes on to describe the fate of the submarine. She weighed and quivered about in a frantic endeavor to escape but it was useless. Not a 'sophistic' was there to be found, and at last, realizing the helplessness of her plight, she ceased to struggle. This fact was duly celebrated by those on board the airplane to the de-

INDIA TO BE ONE OF GROUPE OF FREE NATIONS

London, July 29 (British wireless service)—The principle of the British Government in dealing with India should be the progressive realization of responsible government, step by step, until India proves to the satisfaction of Parliament that she is ready for home rule. In the view of Edwin Samuel Montagu, secretary of state for India, as expressed in a speech at Cambridge. When the day came in which that process had been completed, he added, India would take her place in the commonwealth of nations.

Portsmouth's First Sacrifice.

Portsmouth gave up her first son in the great battle for world freedom with the announcement of the death of Lieut. Frank Booma, U. S. A. The news of his death will carry sorrow into many homes. Young Booma was of the real type of the self-made young man. He had under adverse circumstances made a record for perseverance that won for him the love of all who knew him. As a high school student he was clean, thoroughly athletic and a good student. At ten years of age he was determined to make good and he showed ability to get there. As an assistant to Mr. Frank E. Leavitt at the Silas S. Pierce Store, he developed much ability and had he remained would have succeeded to the management of this plant. He, however, desired further knowledge and education and sought a college career. He went after it with that same thoroughness and for two years he was climbing the ladder of success at New Hampshire College. When the war broke out he immediately volunteered for the Plattsburg officers' training camp, and graduated with honors in August, 1917. Thence through various training steps in England until he landed on the western front.

Portsmouth could not have given up a more thorough type of her sterling young manhood than in the person of young Booma. All honor to him. He died not in vain but in a defense of right and justice and from an atmosphere at Portsmouth where liberty first saw the light.

Yellow Card Patriots.

The man of the hour is the man of power—the man who acts. He is ready and anxious to give, to work or to fight for his country's cause and he finds some way of doing one or all of these things.

The duty of the hour is to convert our civic weaklings into strong aggressive and active patriots, and to enlist them in the national cause.

It is said that in a western State a sort of a vigilance committee exists in each voting precinct. This committee calls in each citizen and asks what he is doing to help win the war. A record is made, and if he is doing his full part he gets a white card; if he is doing only part of his full duty he receives a blue card. If he is able but is doing nothing he gets a yellow card.

What are you doing to capture and bring into the fold the yellow card candidates among your acquaintances?

This is a patriotic service in which you can engage with little trouble to yourself and great profit to the nation.

In the South, too, they are using automobiles for running liquor into dry territory. There, according to reports, they use heavy, high-powered machines and run them at a rate which compels officers and vehicles of all kinds to clear the track. These be stirring times in the temperance field.

Dartmouth College has wiped out its war deficit of $65,000 and thereby earned a long credit mark. The liberality of alumni and the skill of the officers in budget paring have done the business, which is highly creditable to the institution and very gratifying to all its friends.

In view of what took place here on July 4 it is highly interesting to be told that there are liable to be one or more launches on Labor Day. It is to be believed that such news as this will have even greater effect in Germany than reports of lynchings.

The people of the country are being told that whale meat, alias "sea beef," is mighty good eating, but thus far there has been no suggestion that some of it be shipped over to the Allies.

It is safe to assume that the Germans don't like the U-boat as well as they do the U-boat. It is also safe to assume that they are beginning to realize that they are not having everything their own way just now.

The excessive heat has been very tedious in many respects, but it has boomed the summer resort business and for this the proprietors, who had a long season of waiting, are duly grateful.

Italy also welcomes the Yankee soldiers. Everybody welcomes them except the Huns and their unwholy cohorts.

Mr. Hoover predicts that the Allies will achieve victory in two years. It would be mighty pleasing if he could shave the time by about eighteen months.

No Longer "Incomparable"
(From the New York World)
Germany's manifest longing for peace will never be satisfied while it leaves all its hopes on the virtue of its "incomparable army." It is precisely that incomparable army which has conquered a peace, and the truth must presently be revealed even to darkest Prussia.

Keep The Canal Federal
(From the Fall River News)
The people of New England who rejoice at the construction of the Cape Cod ship canal will now rejoice that it is taken over by the Government. Ultimately it must be deepened and widened, no doubt, to make possible the passage of the largest ships. It is possible to utilize it for coal transportation and that is the primary reason. The submarine attack upon coal barges returning from Boston for more coal quickened the desire for Government control of the canal and determined the Government to take over the property. This will greatly reduce the distance and the danger of the haul from coal ports to Boston and beyond.

The canal should never go back to private ownership. Unless the owners will accept a fair price for the property it should be condemned and taken at a price fixed by the courts. The Government ought to have the waterway for public benefit, but should not be made to pay more than it is fairly worth.

Hohenzollern Princes' Future
(From the New York Herald)
If Hohenzollerns were capable of thinking and feeling like a human being, thoughts fill their minds when they peer into the future and wonder what fields of enjoyment, adventure and travel will be open to them after the war.

Will the Crown Prince be able to dismiss from his mind the knowledge that he has killed more Germans than have any three of the generals opposed to him? Will the widows and orphans of the slain forget that they were sacrificed to a mad attempt to bolster up the prestige of the heir to Germany's throne? Does this heir to name will live in history linked to bloody and futile battles, fought, not his own weak-chinned face in the eyes of the nation that he will yet be called to govern—provided all goes well with his dynasty?

There are dark days and dreary nights ahead for the Hohenzollerns. Unable to visit the capitals of polite nations, their manners will deteriorate and the task become a mere haunting memory. For them no big game hunting in the Rockies or tiger shooting in the jungles through the beautiful English country with stops at comfortable, historic, inns. To them alone, among all the dwellers on earth will be denied the pleasures and advantages of foreign travel and association with cultivated society. Truly a sad outlook is theirs.

All Quiet Along The Jordan
(From the New York Evening Post)
It is clear from the official reports that General Allenby, who has just repulsed a Turkish attack, has been on the defensive in Palestine for some time. The British advance north on the line from Jerusalem to the sea stopped several months ago. East of Jerusalem the British went as far as the Mecca railroad, which they cut. Then, probably finding this sufficient for their purpose, they retreated westward to Be-Sail. Now, it appears, General Allenby has withdrawn from the temporary Be-Sail position, has recrossed the Jordan, and today has his right flank resting on the Jordan above Jericho. He therefore, holds, at present, a fairly straight east and west line, stretching from a little north of Jaffa, on the Mediterranean to the Jordan a little north of Jericho. This is a line which, owing to the rugged nature of the country and the two protected flanks, one covered by the sea and the other by the Jordan, ought to be easily defended against the Turks, who have apparently, with German aid, taken a fresh lease of life. Meanwhile the British general will be making preparations, accumulating men and material, for a renewed effort when the season becomes more favorable.

Back To The Sea
(From the New York Tribune)
The sea is the oldest frontier and the newest. Other frontiers, frontiers of land, yield up the ghost and become obsolete. Not so the sea. Neither steel nor steam nor wireless has lessened its adventure nor decreed of a blue horizon. And, as if its ever-fresh romance were not enough, enter the war and the U-boat, the greatest pirate, the wickedest peril, the best enemy for the brave men to fight, the sea has ever held.

No wonder such a sinking as the Justitia's brings Americans trooping back to the merchant marine with a will. There never was a day in the history of seamen, from Jason to Captain Cook, when the call of the sea was as loud and stirring. The Americans who go to sea today not only hark back to the proudest days of our fleets, when the Stars and Stripes led the clippers of the world around the Horn and back again. He risks his life directly in the service of that flag in combating the chiefest enemy the Allies have had to face.

It is a glorious present and a thrilling future the American seamen face. After the war our fleets will be the mightiest afloat. They will need the best and ablest adventurers we possess. They will offer living on a new and better scale than the sea has ever known. They will have the regard and sustaining will of a nation long neglected of its destiny, but now awakened for all the years to its outstanding trails that lead beyond the horizon. In industry and in commerce as for the handlers of ships America cries with one voice. "Back to the sea!"

The Laugh That Lifts
(From the Minneapolis Journal)
In the large garden across the street is a lady who laughs. Fourteen families live within earshot, and fourteen families know and like her. In the evening hours neighbors daily along the border of the big garden to exchange some smiling word for her laugh. The bargain is easily struck, and the buyers go home satisfied. Her words please. If it could be canned for the market, it would sell like Cactus.

In the same region lives a man who never smiles nor speaks a smiling word. He counts one in the census, but the cheer-hungry world is making no path to his door. It has no appetite for his wares. The human race is fed up on gloom. No one need even go across the street for gloom. It grows with other weeds on both sides of the road. Anyone can let it go of cheer. Though cheer is as cheaply made as gloom, there is always a brisk market for it. The cheer at a loss in order to close out his stock.

He who has heard the laugh of the woman of the street or the hyena or the cynic, knows that no mortal by mere resolution can say: "Go to, now, I will laugh myself popular." The laugh that lifts is not an accident nor an accident. It is an outward sign of an inward grace. It has been used, and this imitation is heard on the stage. But at its best this make-believe laugh falls short of the spontaneous uplifting laugh.

The laugh that lifts has behind it a preparation—a long laboratory process in the secret chambers of the soul. It comes from a conscious or unconscious confidence in the beneficence of the divine order of things. Quality. It is the echo of the last laugh he heard in heaven, just before he set sail for the shores of time. His laugh was made in the laboratory of early childhood and the heart laugh of every honest mortal, old or young. Creation's plan provides a laugh from the cradle to the grave and far beyond it; and he who cannot laugh the lifting laugh has lost a valuable bit of his heaven-made heritage.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Wants More Pep at Kittery.
Editor—For the interest of the taxpayers of Kittery I wish to ask a few questions which one or more of the selectmen may be able to answer. Why no water in the drinking fountain at the junction of Wentworth and Government streets? Why no fee for the public? Why no interest in a laundry for wet wash?

The selectmen must realize that Kittery is growing and the town must wake up to every improvement that will meet the increase of population. There is no order as yet which would lead to the Hooverizing of water and it's time that some attention was given to the fountain in weather when animals are suffering.

Regarding the supply of ice, it appears to be limited and only a few are able to get it while the demand for the same is greater than ever.

If the regular dealer cannot furnish the necessary supply, why cannot the selectmen secure a carload or more when needed and sell it to the people? I think it's the duty of the selectmen to interest themselves in such a matter.

Understand that parties have been seeking a location for a laundry, but received not the least encouragement from property owners in regard to the enterprise. There are numerous new residents who wish to patronize a laundry and the fact that none exists in any part of the town is a great handicap to the people.

Why not inject some life into the office of selectmen and the put the town on the map? There never was a better opportunity and while the getting is good let the town get all it can. Kittery will have a number of new voters at the next election and these voters will have something to say. The boom for the old town will not be very extensive unless the officials wake up to the needs of the people. A little more speed, gentlemen, please.

TWO WEEKS' SUGAR SUPPLY IS LIMIT

Federal Administrator Tells How Much Householder May Have and Not Be Guilty of Hoarding—Retailers Will Get But Little in August.

Concord, N. H., July 29.—Huntley N. Spaulding, Federal Food Administrator for New Hampshire, has issued the following statement in regard to the sugar rationing schedule on the part of some unpatented housekeepers. The statement, which follows, will be posted in all of the grocery stores in the state:

"A large number of retail grocers of the state who handle sugar have complained to the Food Administration that housekeepers are abusing the three pound per capita per month sugar rationing schedule and also the privilege of purchasing sugar for canning purposes on certificates.

"In some cases men and women who are obtaining from their regular grocers an amount of sugar equal to three pounds per month for each member of their household over two years of age are at the same time buying sugar from other grocers and telling these other grocers that they are not obtaining sugar elsewhere. No man or woman can obtain sugar in this manner without perjurying himself or herself for each grocer in obtaining his allotment of sugar agreed upon his honor, to ascertain from each sugar customer by verbal inquiry the fact as to whether or not the customer is securing sugar elsewhere.

To Back Loyal Grocers.

"The Food Administration proposes to give the loyal grocers of the state all the backing within its power and so it is deemed necessary at this time to state definitely the amount of sugar which may be rightfully held by a householder. If after this date any householder has on hand an amount of sugar in excess of a two weeks' supply for ordinary household purposes and in excess of 25 pounds for canning purposes the householder might not only be deemed guilty of hoarding but that householder would be depriving the Allies and our soldiers and sailors of their patriotic cooperation and assistance which the Food Administration deems of vital importance.

"It is easy to determine just how much sugar constitutes a two weeks' supply when the three pound per month allotment and the number of people in the family are taken into consideration. If sugar is claimed to be held for canning purposes by a householder under inspection the fact can be easily determined by finding the canning certificate on which the purchase was made and which would have been turned over to the local food administrator by the grocer who made the sale. No sugar is sold for canning purposes by any dealer except upon certificate which must be properly executed by the purchaser.

Asks Citizens' Help.

"The Food Administration is anxious that the patriotic householder and grocer should not be imposed upon by the unpatented and greedy sugar hoarder. The co-operation of every fair-minded citizen is solicited in this campaign to stop the man from securing sugar without regard to principle of equality.

"The above does not apply to the thousands of patriotic men and women of New Hampshire who are voluntarily adhering strictly to the sugar regulations and thereby assisting in winning the war.

(Signed) "H. N. SPAULDING, Federal Food Administrator."

LESS SUGAR FOR DEALERS.

Owing to facts which were not ascertained until after the present rationing of sugar began, the allotment of sugar in this state for the month of July to retailers, bakers, public eating places and manufacturers has greatly exceeded the amount of sugar which has been rationed to this state by the United States Food Administration. It will, therefore, be necessary to reduce the amount of sugar which will be allotted to retailers in August to a very small fraction of the amount received by them in July. This, of course, means that retail dealers will be very short of sugar during the month of August.

The Food Administration is today explaining the situation to the grocers in a special bulletin addressed to them and suggests that each grocer take an immediate survey of his sugar supply and find out whether he will have a sufficient amount to take care of the requirements of his trade between now and the first of September on a basis of three pounds per month for each person in a household. It is to be assumed that the amount of sugar he will receive for the month of August will be as low as 25 percent of that allotted to him for July. The exact amount will be announced again at the earliest possible moment.

Sugarless Canning.
If after making the survey he finds that he has a surplus of sugar, he may sell such an amount as seems advisable to him for canning purposes, but under no circumstances does the Food Administration desire the sale of sugar for canning unless the grocer's figures show that he will have a surplus over and above the amount necessary to allot three pounds a month to each individual in the families of his customers.

Canning sugar must be sold only on certificates as heretofore but the sugar a grocer may be able to sell for canning should be distributed among his customers in an equitable manner. The grocer is further asked to advise all of his customers that canning of fruits, berries and fruit juices may be accomplished successfully without the use of any sugar. Circulars telling how to do this are being distributed to each family in the state at the present time.

In regard to summer residents who are not living at hotels or boarding houses in New Hampshire, the Food Administration feels that their requirements should be met in the same manner as the requirements of year round residents. In order to take care of their requirements in addition to those of the regular year round customers it may be necessary for the grocer to reduce the amount of sugar allotted per month to each person in the household to less than three pounds. This is a fact which the grocer himself will have to determine.

Each grocer is being furnished with a copy of a notice to the sugar buying public which he is asked to post conspicuously in his store which calls attention of all concerned to the fact that hoarding of sugar is both illegal and unpatriotic.

BAKERS PENALIZED.

Several bakers charged with various violations of the Food Administration regulations appeared before the Federal Food Administrator this week for hearings.

Wilfred Roy, of Roy's Cafe, 1143 Elm street, Manchester, was charged with having failed to take out a baker's license. He was ordered to close his bakery until the necessary license is obtained and to display a sign in his window explaining to the public that his bakery has been closed for violations of the Food Administration regulations.

J. F. Mead, of Joe's Lunch, 377 Chestnut street, Manchester, was charged with failure to take out a baker's license and the same penalty upon Mr. Roy was imposed on Mr. Mead.

The Lithuanian Bakery of Nashua was charged with having used rye meal as a wheat flour substitute which is contrary to the administration regulations. This establishment was ordered to be closed from September 9 to October 9 and to display a sign in the window explaining that the establishment was closed because of violations of the regulations.

Alphonse Lemay of Lebanon was charged with failure to use the proper amount of substitutes and of having used too much shortening in his products. His bakery was not ordered closed, but he was ordered to use up an additional amount of substitutes until the proper total had been reached. He is to display a sign that he has been penalized for violating the food administration regulations and that he will obey the regulations in future. The sign is to be displayed for a week.

P. H. Hennessey, a baker of Lebanon, charged with having used an insufficient amount of substitutes, was given the same penalty as that imposed upon Mr. Lemay.

D. J. Moreau, a baker of Claremont, was reprimanded for failure to make out his baker's reports properly.

Sam Sulofsky, 148 Pleasant street, Berlin, a baker, was charged with not using enough substitutes. He was given two months in which to make up this shortage and was ordered to display the customary sign.

(Signed) "H. N. SPAULDING, Federal Food Administrator."

JAPAN ANXIOUSLY AWAITING WILSON REPLY ON RUSSIA

London, July 29.—Japan is anxiously awaiting President Wilson's reply to her recent note concerning intervention in Russia, says a dispatch to the Times from Tokyo, dated July 28. Owing to delays in cable transmission the reply was not expected in less than a week from last Thursday.

No Time For Politics

(From the Brooklyn Times)
It is cheering to read that voters are falling to enthusiasm over the coming political campaigns. This, however, worries candidates and politicians generally who can't stand being crowded out of the limelight by anything short of a divine visitation. Just now we are too busy to fritter away much time listening to peanut politics.

Oscar Kahn, the Morrisville, Vt., junk man, who pledged to give the profits of a week's business to the Y. M. C. A., made a net profit of $11.75. In April Mr. Kahn gave a week's profits of his business to the Red Cross, amounting to $221.75, and recently gave $10 to the local Red Cross and some smaller gifts, making a total of $234.25 which he has given to these organizations.

TO GIVE ELIOT AND KITTERY MORE WATER

Water District Approves the Expenditure of $200,000.

The town of Kittery, through its Kittery Water District Incorporation, Monday evening, held along the program for the winning of the war, by voting to rebuild its main line for the use of the Navy Yard, at a cost of $200,000, as authorized by the Public Utilities Commission of Maine.

There was not a dissenting voice or any opposition whatsoever to this enormous expense. Work will be started at once, although the cost will be greatly in excess of what it might have been a few years ago. The thought of the needs of this naval district at its meeting.

The annual meeting of the District was held at 7:30 o'clock in Wentworth Hall. There was a good attendance of representative citizens.

Alon, Horace Mitchell, president of the Kittery Water District, presided. James H. Walker, secretary of the District, acted as secretary of the meeting.

After listening to the reading of the warrant for the meeting, the detailed financial statement and the report of the auditing committee, the latter being read by Alexander Bennett, the discussion of the proposed new main from Folly Pond, York, was taken up.

After a very brief discussion, which was entirely harmonious, the vote to make the extensions approved of by the consulting engineers was passed.

This work will include a separate route for the new 12-inch pipe line, which will obviate the crossing of Folly river, where it has been feared that the winter ice might cripple the supply. This new big main will give the Navy Yard a "treasure supply" of the very best water in the world for any use. The cost of $200,000 will include the raising of the dam at Folly Pond, and provide more than the original pressure for home service in Kittery and Eliot.

The financial statement in round numbers shows assets of $331,100.00 and liabilities of $163,911.96. The present plant is valued at something like $325,000.00, while is a creditable item for the town of Kittery.

During the past period covered by the financial statement, which runs from April 1, 1917, the Kittery Water District not only struggled along and paid its bills from service receipts, but also bought Liberty Bonds.

The expense of course will be a very heavy one for the town, but every citizen of Kittery is determined to do his share in any program that will be of service to the navy and to the country. At least one of the men at the meeting Monday evening has two splendid boys in the United States Army. The fact that there was not a single word to block this considerable new responsibility of the meeting, is a very good tribute to the feeling of Kittery folks toward the country's needs in having this yard the best that Kittery may help in making.

An application of Alfred W. Sterling for an extension of the service along the old Post Road, also now known as the State Road, which would add five new houses, was referred to the board for investigation as to its expediency.

George D. Boulton was re-elected a trustee for three years. The vote was unanimous.

RYE

Rye North Beach, July 30.—The hall at the Ocean Wave hotel was crowded to its capacity last Friday evening when an entertainment was given to the benefit of the Red Cross. The participants were either guests at the hotel or from the cottages along the beach.

Among the numbers on the program were:

Soprano solos—Mrs. Lowell, Mrs. Jones, Contralto Solo—Miss Montello.
Baritone Solo—Mr. Cotton.

Singing of Patriotic and Popular Songs by the audience.
Double Quartet—Tenors, Mr. Stone, Mr. Harrington; sopranos, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Robinson; altos, Miss Montello, Miss Jackson; baritone, Mr. Cotton, Dr. Hulme.

Mr. Stone presided and at an appropriate moment offered at auction two hand-carved napkin rings made and donated by Mr. Coggeshall. By this means $1.50 was realized and more rings ordered. At the conclusion of the entertainment "Muddynovio," an Italian fortune teller, read the future for those who were fortunate enough to hold the silver quarter with which to cross her palm.

Taken altogether it was a most successful entertainment both in a financial and social way as it was the means of bringing together the people in the hotel and the cottages. Nearly $60 was netted for the Red Cross.

HELD ON PROPAGANDA CHARGE

Glen Cove, N. Y., July 29.—Questioned today by two army intelligence officers, Harriet Goldman of New York city, who was arrested here yesterday after it was alleged he had distributed fliers bearing German propaganda, declared that he had been connected with the quartermaster's depot at Governor's Island for the last five months. Despite his claim that he saw nothing untoward in giving away the pamphlets, he was taken to New York at the close of the examination.

According to the officers, Goldman said the pamphlets had been made five years ago by his father, sold to a jobber and recently repurchased by his father. On one side was a picture of the Pope, and on the other the inscription "We Want Peace" with a cluster of small flags, including those of Germany, the United States and the allied nations.

Heinie Cragen's collar sprang a surprise on the Shattuck base ball team on Monday evening and won the game by a score of 8 to 4 in a game that despite the omissions was fast and interesting. The Y. M. C. A. had a stronger team than they have been presenting, including Reed at first, who put up a fast exhibition of how to cover the initial station and he also is a good booster for any team keeping the players on their toes all of the time. Heine was in the box, and he pitched a good game, keeping the heavy hitting wooden ship builders down to six hits, Conlon getting two of these.

He was afforded excellent support; Thompson at short, Sorotte at third and McWilliams at second. Reed at first getting some difficulty chances while Cragen in the field made two catches, one after a long run he pulled down a ball that was labeled for four bases had it got by.

W. Tyler was the slab artist for the Shattuck and he pitched a good ball but his support at times was decidedly ragged. McKoon who shifted to second made three errors that were costly. Brackett was behind the bat and he played that station with his old time zeal and skill. Conlon at short and Cashman at third both played fast ball.

The Shattuck got across a run in the opening inning, Slattery getting to first on Sorotte's fumble. McKoon drew a pass both were advanced on Neehan's sacrifice. Brackett hit to Thompson who forced Slattery at the plate. Heine threw wild to get McKoon and he scored, and W. Tyler tagged.

They held the lead only for a few minutes the Y. M. C. A. getting three runs in the first inning, after Sorotte fled to Cashman, Thompson and Slattery singled. Phillips forced Smith at second, Reed fled to center and H. Tyler dropped the ball. Thompson scoring, Pangel hit through McKoon and Phillips and Reed scored. McWilliams fanned.

They got two more runs in the second and without a hit, Cragen hit to W. Tyler who fumbled, Heine hit to Tyler who threw over second to get Cragen, and both scored when McKoon allowed Sorotte's runner to get. They then Thompson was thrown out by Cragen at third. McKoon and Slattery by a sacrifice and singles by Reed and McWilliams scored one run in the third. They failed to score again until the sixth when Cragen was given a pass and a single by Sorotte and a two base hit by Thompson scored two runs.

The wooden ship builders scored in the third a base on balls to McKoon was followed by a home run drive by McKoon. In the seventh they got another run on a single by Conlon and a three base hit by McKoon.

LIMITED SERVICE MEN GO TODAY

The following limited service men left this forenoon for Syracuse, N. Y., where they will get special training for work as Bremen and guards at the ports of embarkation. Andrew D. Perkins, Hampton; Winfield B. Clifford, Newton; John H. Perkins, Portsmouth; Benjamin H. Taylor, Newton; Louis J. Phinley, Lowell; and Ernest M. Ward of this city.

There are none of the full service men left in class one, other than those who are in the 1918 registration or some of the reclassified men who have been ordered for examination. Dr. Pender on Monday completed the examination of the 1918 registrants and he now has several other examinations to make. Physically the men of this registration did not come up to that of 1917, which was considered poor.

It is understood however that at least fifty per cent of the registration will be in class one and physically fit for service. This is understood will be about the average all over the country.

Ten men have been assigned as the quota from this city for Dartmouth college training camp, six of whom have volunteered, five from the 1918 registration and one new registrant. The volunteers are: Harold Sweetser, William Q. House, Albert G. Quinn, Asa Ham, of Portsmouth, George P. Merrill of East Kingston and James Colpitt of Portsmouth. The other four will be picked by the Local Board.

The following new classifications have been made and the men ordered before the doctor for examination for class one, Ralph C. Clarke, George A. McPheters, Ray E. Slater, George Mitchell, (colored), Philip W. Tucker, and Austin W. Brown of this city and Oscar C. Boyley of East Kingston.

BAVARIAN DIVISIONS DEFEATED

(By Associated Press)

Notwithstanding the fact that Germany has powerfully strengthened their battle line between Solissons-Rheims and has stubbornly disputed further passage north of the entire troops the enemy's front has been compelled to bend back on all sides of the salient except at the anchor points at Solissons and Rheims.

South of Solissons further wedges have been driven into the enemy line from down to the Oureq river and eastward the French and American troops have crossed the stream at several points and have advanced well north, while south of Rheims the allied troops have debouched from the wooded section and gained the plains, notwithstanding the enemies powerful counter attack at some points the enemy succeeded in checking the advance of the allies but at no point have they stopped it.

The retirement of the Germans is orderly but everywhere, especially at Per-en-Thoronts the Americans are pushing them back. There has been particular hard fighting at Per-en-Tardons and at Surgy both towns which have been captured by the Americans and French.

The Germans at Surgy and the Americans at Per-en-Thoronts are forcing their line with two divisions of American troops. The Americans have been tested in many important points where the Germans needed picked and well trained men. It was an effort either to destroy the Americans or to herd them back across the Oureq river. Whatever it was it was a failure, the battle line at Surgy shifted back and forth, the town changing hands no less than four times, but in the end the Americans drove the enemy back inflicting heavy casualties upon them.

South of Solissons on the western end of the salient the Germans have strongly reinforced their line with the object of preventing further flanking of the Solissons side and to prevent the cutting off of their large force of men who are operating on the Oureq river about Oulohy Chateau.

Scotch troops have captured positions on the outskirts of Bazay just to the west of Chateau-Thierry road while further south the French have overcome the resistance and have taken Grand Rozay, Cugny and Butte. Chateau south east of Solissons well inside the salient and at present far outside of the battle zone along the Solissons-Tremes railroad is said to be in flames.

This would apparently indicate that the retreat of the Germans from the big pocket would continue for some time before it would be brought face about and give battle on some prepared ground, possibly on the Aisne or the Vesle rivers and running south east to Rheims.

British troops in Flanders and northern France are continually harassing the German line and are daily capturing prisoners and machine guns. Unofficial reports of discord between Turkey and Bulgaria and Germany, and that Turkey has severed relations with Germany have come through Copenhagen from Constantinople. Rumor of the discord between them has been current for some time due to the award of part of Rumania to Bulgaria.

Washington, July 29.—Eight steel ships, with a total dead weight tonnage of 35,890, were delivered by American shipyards last week, the Shipping Board announced today. These deliveries bring the number of vessels built for the Shipping Board to nearly 250, with 1,500,000 dead weight tonnage. Among the launchings last week, six at Lake yards and one each at Gulf and Atlantic coast yards.

BRITISH MUST ENLIST AT ONCE

Drafting Agreement With the United States in Force This Week.

Brigadier General W. A. White, head of the British and Canadian recruiting mission in this country, has issued a final call to his countrymen in the United States, notifying them that unless they enlist under their colors at once they will be drafted into the American army. The recruiting convention between Great Britain, Canada and the United States goes into force this week and after a limited time the chance to volunteer will cease.

General White in his call says: "On July 31 the recruiting convention between Great Britain, Canada and the United States will come into force and the period for voluntary enlistment terminates on Sept. 28.

"During this period of 50 days all Britons and Canadians between the ages of 20 and 41, both inclusive, have an opportunity of offering their services to their own countries at a time when the services of every man are urgently needed.

"For 60 days all British subjects between the above ages will be exempt from the American draft and can enlist at any recruiting depot of the British and Canadian recruiting mission, regardless of the fact that they may have taken out first United States citizen papers or have been classified in class one.

"During the period of 60 days all Britons and Canadians of 20 years of age and those between the ages of 31 and 41, both inclusive, will be required to register on a date fixed by proclamation by the President and 30 days after registration men of those ages will be liable to the American draft.

On Sept. 28 the 60 days within which you can volunteer expires and thereafter you will be liable to draft into the United States army. For information as to rates of pay, separation allowance, etc., apply to the British-Canadian recruiting depot."

mission, Maj. Guy Boyer, who is the officer in command at this recruiting station, 913 Elm street, Manchester, issues the following appeal to his countrymen here:

"Britishers, the eyes of Great Britain, Canada and the United States are on you. Canada and Great Britain is calling you. Be true to the flag to which you owe allegiance. Does not the heroic fight and sacrifices that your brave compatriots have made and are making in this world war stir you? Do not bank back any longer. Now is your opportunity to enlist voluntarily. Step right out and take your place in the ranks of the armies of Great Britain or Canada where you belong and relieve the other man 'over there' of your burden that he has been carrying for four years. The United States is now offering you release from any obligation to this country to enable you to return to your own country and do what is right. Enlist now and be worthy of this country and the country to which you owe allegiance."

ROCHESTER

Rochester, July 30.—As Dallas Peterson of Front street, 19 years old, was operating a motor cycle on the Farmington road Sunday, he struck loose sand in the highway, causing him to lose control of the machine, which ran so near a tree by the roadside that his leg was so badly lacerated that it was broken near the hip joint. He was taken to the hospital and is now in the hospital.

The annual outing of the poor children of the city under the auspices of the Salvation Army was held at Wells Beach Monday, Ensign Mark Arnold in charge. The lady members of the army and the English attended, and some eight or ten autoists offered the free use of their automobiles for the event. A basket lunch was served at noon. The children enjoyed themselves with games.

During a heavy shower Sunday afternoon the lightning entered the residence of J. P. Tunnizzo, Nutter street on a wire knocking bottles from a table, and passed out of an open window. In the Merrill's Corner section two trees in front of W. H. Bickford's residence were struck and clapboards and shingles were torn from the house but there was no fire.

Councillor and Mrs. Charles W. Varney of Leonard street have been entertaining George W. Shepley, assistant treasurer of the International Trust Company of Boston, and family at their home.

The Walnut Grove Free Baptist pulpit was supplied Sunday by Rev. C. R. Upton, pastor of the East Rochester Free Baptist church.

William Stanton, bookkeeper at the Spaulding Mill, North Rochester, and family are at Stratford corner for a vacation the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Trefts, parents of Mrs. Stanton.

William Bradnard has resigned his position as foreman of the machine shop of the Gonic Manufacturing Company to engage in farming near Haverhill, Mass. On leaving his position the employees who had worked under him presented him with a gold watch chain and a meerschaum pipe as a token of esteem.

Edward L. Laroche, United States navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laroche of Maple street, is spending a 15 days' furlough at home. He is stationed at Bag, Boston.

Miss Marjorie Wright, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. William Wright of Jackson street, is at home from Los Angeles, Cal., where she has been attending school for several years, stopping with her aunt, Dr. Florence Bates, a former practicing physician in Dover.

SHEEP HERDING LONELY JOB
Men in Australia Have Strange Ways of Keeping Count of the Days.

Each boundary rider on the immense sheep ranches of Australia has a district to look after, and he has to keep the wire fences in repair and see that the sheep come to no harm. It is a hard, lonely life, in which the rider rarely sees another human being. Many of the men have strange ways of keeping count of the days.

One rider named Lagan tried several plans to keep count of the days, but always failed. At length he hit upon a method of his own. He divided the day into seven parts. Each section was a day's allowance, and the slices that remained told him the number of days that must pass before Sunday came again.

For several weeks this method never failed him. Unfortunately, one Tuesday he fell in with a fellow rider who was very hungry. Egan stunted himself in order that the ravenous one might be satisfied with that day's section of the damper. But it was no use. The host saw the knife cut the boundary line and the hungry rider carved into the damper. He could stand it no longer.

"Stop, now, stop," he yelled, as he clutched the remains of the damper and glared at his visitor. "There," he went on, "you've eaten Tuesday and you've eaten Wednesday, and now you want to slice the best of the morning off Thursday! Not if I can stop it, sonny! I won't be knowing the day of the week!"

Origin of Tea Drinking.

Tea drinking seems to have originated in China; and the Chinese, according to Prof. King in his "Furnaces of Forty Centuries," drank it first as a sanitary measure, having found that boiling their water saved them from typhoid and afterward adding tea leaves to make the boiled water palatable. Dr. R. A. Gortner of the University of Minnesota, writing in Science, believes that this is not an exact description of what happened, but that the discovery of the efficacy of tea as a typhoid preventive came after its general adoption in China as a pleasing drink.

A Sane Outlook.

Exaggerated outpourings of our physical ills and troubles tend most certainly to their verification. Our minds respond to such a self-suggested idea of our illness. Until we also are vitiated. Exaggerating the faults or the merits of children give them an unduly distorted idea of their importance. The reading of sensational fiction unfits us for a proper appreciation of standard literature and exaggeration of architecture and house furnishings places us unmistakably in the ranks of the newly arrived.

Lieut. Frank G. Booma

IN MEMORIAM

By the death of Lieut. Frank G. Booma, Portsmouth loses one of its fine many young men, and the news which came Monday that he had been killed in battle brought a shock of surprise and grief to the entire community. Yet while his loss will be deeply felt, Portsmouth feels proud that its first sacrifice in this war for righteousness was a young soldier who went forth to meet the enemy without fear and with a manly heart, ready and willing to sacrifice his life, if necessary, in the cause for humanity.

A young officer, who recently arrived from France to act as an instructor in a southern training camp, wrote in glowing terms to loyal friends of the bravery of Lieut. Booma when under fire, saying he displayed rare courage and gallantry. Lieut. Booma had then been in the being line and later was assigned to duty in a small town taken by the allied troops.

Lieut. Booma was a member of the North Church, a regular attendant at church services and active in the Young People's Society. The news of his death was deeply felt by the pastor, Rev. Lucius H. Thayer, who admired the fine qualities in the young man. Dr. Thayer paid a glowing tribute to his memory at the public patriotic meeting at Music Hall Monday evening.

While at the Portsmouth high school no student was more popular and he was chosen president of his class. Prominent in athletics the young man was chosen captain of the high school football team at the time New Hampshire won the championship. He also won prominence as a basketball player in the school inter-class series. Ambitious to obtain a college education, yet one of the first to respond to his country's call he left New Hampshire College to enter the Officer's Training camp at Plattsburg and was later one of the first of the newly appointed officers to volunteer for overseas duty.

Lieut. Booma's qualities of mind and heart were such as to win for him the esteem of a large circle of friends, and his valor as a soldier and devotion to the flag caused him to die a hero. His memory will ever be revered.

GUARD DISCOVERS FIRE IN MAGAZINE AT NAVY YARD

About 6.30 this morning a marine sentry discovered fire in the powder magazine at the navy yard and pulled in the alarm from box 43.

The fire was confined to the floor, the only wood work in the building and resulted in slight damage. It is understood that a small amount of smoke screen powder was stored there.

The building is a small structure, built of granite and slate and has at times been used for storage of mines.

At present the cause of the fire is unknown but is thought to have started from a spontaneous combustion.

A board of officers will convene to investigate the fire.
